they grew older, it became harder to provide care for them. My grandparents have always been highly independent, and they refused to go to a nursing home, insisting that they were perfectly fine at home. Through the help of a caring and skilled nurse, my grandparents were able to stay in their house and lead healthy, active lives. I want to be able to share this experience with others and provide care for others. Obtaining a degree in nursing will provide me the skills and knowledge I need to achieve my career goals in the healthcare industry.

I believe that both academic knowledge and hands-on opportunities are essential to a well-rounded exploration of the healthcare field. I completed a hospital internship in my senior year of high school, where I had the opportunity to shadow various doctors and nurses in their rounds of the hospital. I even got to meet patients themselves, and administer basic diagnostic tests. The experience really excited me, and I found myself extremely interested in continuing my work as a nurse. Above all, I was touched by the stories and spirit of each one of the patients I came into contact with.

After obtaining my nursing certification, I want to practice in a hospital and provide care for patients in long term care. I believe that the deep connections forged during that time are critical to patient recovery. I want to earn my patients' trust, and aid them in their recovery. Helping people in distress comes naturally to me, and I know I want that type of interaction in my future career. Although it is going to be hard work, I am set on obtaining a nursing degree and achieve my goal of caring for others in a medical setting.

have new problems to solve. So, one should be ready for all these things. One can face life and its problems with a plan. Without a plan, life would be difficult to lead.

I want to become a teacher. The question is why so. There are many other professions. One can be a doctor, earning a lot of rupees daily. One can be an engineer, getting thousands of rupees as salary. One can be a shop-keeper earning lots of profits. One can also be a trader, selling things and earning lots of profits. Why then a teacher?

I want to become a teacher because I love this profession. Not only that I love it, but also for its greatness. I know teachers in our country are low-paid. I also know that people don't think this profession as a great one. They think that teachers are merely teachers, with no high status in life.

I admit, teachers are not given proper status in our society. But, all the same, I like this profession. I think teaching is the highest job to do. It is because teachers bring light of knowledge in the lives of the people. They take them out of ignorance. They teach them good values.
